

Submissions Policy

Policy #00001

The Submissions Policy of Ink & Fable Publishing Ltd. outlines the details of how authors can submit manuscripts to this company, other publishing companies and or publishing themselves once signed by Ink & Fable.

1. Submitting a Manuscript

Authors may submit to Ink & Fable Publishing alongside submitting to other publishing houses, the only requirements for submitting to Ink & Fable are to follow the formatting guidelines outlined on inkandfablepublishing.com. The book must also fall under the categories within speculative fiction within the market audiences of YA, NA or ADULT:

- Fantasy
- Paranormal
- Supernatural
- Alternative History
- Science Fiction
- Steampunk
- Dystopian
- Utopian
- Adventure
- Superhero
- Horror

If Ink & Fable offers a publishing contract to a submitting author then that author is permitted to wait for the responses from other publishing houses before they accept or reject Ink & Fable's offer.

2. Submitting Once Signed

Authors signed with Ink & Fable Publishing are under no obligation to publish future novels with Ink & Fable except for the case of series signed under the company. Ink & Fable provides different publishing contracts for stand alone novels and series of books. If an author signs a contract for the first novel in a planned series of books then the contract will include the stipulation that all further series books shall be published under Ink & Fable Publishing also. However, all other manuscripts written by the author, both stand alone and different series, may be submitted to other publishing houses or self published by the author, if the author so wishes.
